

CAPTAIN CARTER WAS EASY GAME

Opening Statement of the Prosecution in the Case Against Greene and Gaynor.

CONSPIRACY IS CHARGED ONE LIFEBOAT DISABLED LINE TO BE FOLLOWED IN THE TRIAL.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 20.—Assistant Attorney General Erwin, upon the convening of the federal court today, indicated to the jury the course the government would follow in presenting its case against Greene and Gaynor. He said that it would show in support of the charge of conspiracy, that the defendants came together in an agreement to defraud the government and that the overt act of conspiracy had actually been committed.

The government, he said, would seek to show that Lieutenant O. M. Carter came here in 1934 under General Gilmore, and was connected with the river and harbor work when appropriations for river and harbors were not so large as now. Carter was appointed in charge upon the death of General Gilmore and the government would show, said Mr. Erwin, that he fell in with Greene and Gaynor here.

Carter was "Worked." At an early stage Mr. Erwin said the contractors started to work on Carter getting him into little side contracts with them and making a little money for him or at least so pretending; then they commenced to lend him money. He was a young officer who had no money to speak of himself. He would pay the money back and at first the loans were inconsiderate, but soon the amounts grew to as much as $2,000; gradually the amounts increased and he became involved in contracts and enterprises with them. Their associations were very close in the early stages and they led him to believe he was a second Eads, a man of great ability and that he could leave the army and go in with them in the carrying out of great contracts in Chili and elsewhere. Mr. Erwin implied that the defendants never had any intention of carrying out these plans, but, by entering into them, they made Carter their man indisputably.

City Became Interested. Then the alleged conspirators interested the people of Savannah in getting a very large appropriation for Savannah harbor work, a great convention being arranged to lend aid to the enterprise. This overstepped the Chili scheme even and offered a splendid opportunity for the alleged conspirators. Congress made this great appropriation and in 1891, Mr. Erwin said, Carter went over to Greene and Gaynor, "body and soul." Just how he went to be paid, the agreement in this "body and soul" deal, does not appear, but a little later, when the payments began upon the big contracts made under the large appropriation of the money could be shown to have been made at the end of each month as regularly as clock-work. From 1892, continued Mr. Erwin, month by month the balances from payments after defraying the expenses of the work and payments made to their co-conspirators, the younger Gaynors and others involved were split up by Greene, Gaynor and Carter in equal amounts.

Carter's Part in the Plan. In the advertising of contracts Mr. Erwin declared, Carter did not follow the regulations, often on $1,000,000 contracts, cutting down the time and so managing as to suppress competition and leave the work necessarily to fall to the Atlantic Contracting company, of which Greene and Carter were the chief beneficiaries. Many obstacles were thrown in the way of other prospective bidders. Carter was said to have kept the specifications under lock and key, guarding them carefully and knowing every man who got a copy. Carter, said Mr. Erwin, adopted means to stop the competition, the alleged conspirators, sometimes buying off other bidders and leaving the work to the Atlantic Contracting company at exorbitant prices.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities already present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after eating onions and other odorous vegetables, and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfests the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, they are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics, in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey. The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath, purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

SHIPWRECKED SEAMEN SAVED

Thrilling Rescue of Seven Sailors From the Schooner Kipling in Mid-ocean.

ONE LIFEBOAT DISABLED HEROISM OF CREW OF STEAMER MAINE.

New York, Jan. 20.—An account of a strange and thrilling rescue of seven seamen from the shipwrecked schooner Kipling was brought here today by the steamer Maine from London. The steamer found the Kipling on Jan. 11 near the British coast, sinking from the effects of the pounding of huge waves. The schooner's seas were sprung and leaking, part of her spars and deck fixtures had been snapped off and big seas were washing over her decks when the Maine sent a boat to take off the Kipling's crew. This boat was manned by an officer and three sailors. It stood alongside the schooner, sometimes rising to the level of the decks and sometimes dropping far below them with the roll of the waves.

Left Clinging to Ship. Every man on the Kipling had safely jumped into this bobbing boat and the oars had been dipped to row away when the schooner swung around so that her bowsprit was directly over the lifeboat. Simultaneously a sea rose beneath the boat, carrying it up and crushing it against the bowsprit, which struck it directly across the midship section. In the midst of snapping oars and flying splinters the seven seamen from the Kipling leaped up to the bowsprit, throwing their arms around available supports and with their feet trying to kick the lifeboat free from its perilous position. This they did, but the lifeboat swept clear of the schooner leaving them clinging to the bowsprit.

Rescued Second Time. In the bottom of the boat one rescuer lay unconscious, having been struck on the head during his collision, and the boat itself so badly damaged that it was in danger of sinking. It was rowed back to the Maine while the crew of the Kipling clambered back to the deck of their vessel again. The Maine, however, sent a second lifeboat to the schooner and this time the shipwrecked men were safely taken aboard the steamer.

The Kipling had been crippled for twenty days before sighting the Maine. She was bound for America.

MURDER MYSTERY IN OHIO

R. K. Lewis, a Wealthy Banker and Farmer, Killed in Cold Blood by Stranger.

Warren, O., Jan. 20.—The people of West Farmington, a village near here, are greatly excited today as a result of the mysterious murder last night of R. K. Lewis, a wealthy banker and farmer. An unknown man came to the home of Lewis in a carriage. Lewis and this man, it is said, were in conference for an hour. At the end of that time a hired man found Lewis lying dead with his head crushed, while his hands and feet were tightly bound. The body was covered with burning straw which had been saturated with coal oil. The unknown stranger was missing. It is believed the murder followed a quarrel over business matters. Lewis, who was a widower and 70 years of age, lived alone. Lewis' skull had been crushed with a flatiron. The flatiron, covered with blood, was found near the body. Lewis had many thousands of dollars' worth of chattel mortgages, and it is believed that a quarrel over one of these resulted in his death.

The murderer evidently had made no attempt at robbery for Lewis' pocketbook and a watch were found on his person.

Hunt, in the United States court today, told Dennis Burke, Samuel McBride, Peter Larson and Charles Ahlin, convicted of illegal timber cutting in Missoula county, that the government must protect its timber interests, and the practice of cutting timber on the public domain must cease. ## HAVE PUBLICITY AND ENFORCE LAW

Leaders Should Be Chosen for Statesmanlike Qualities and Not for Skill in Pulling Wires.

MERIT ALONE SHOULD WIN STRONG ADDRESS BY CHARLES F. HUGHES.

New York, Jan. 20.—In his address at the dinner of the Brown University club last night, Charles E. Hughes, counsel to the Armstrong insurance committee, touched incidentally on the legislative inquiry recently concluded. Among other things, he said:

"When sport cultivates the sentiment that money is the best thing, then sport is a bad thing. When we look about us we see that college men in the world are quite as ready to get their share of the graft as men who have not had an education. Nowadays the young man comes out of college with the sole idea of 'getting on.' To do this he is willing to sacrifice his independence and his sense of honor. He will become the tool of a political leader and will put himself in a position of moral servitude to please him."

Should Stand on Merit.

"When it is made plain that men stand on their merits, then young men will feel a spirit of emancipation. Strip fictitious reputations."

"Have publicity and enforce the law. Make men stand on their merits."

"Policies should be conducted openly. Leaders should be chosen for their statesmanlike qualities, for their standards of honor, for their courage, not for their skill in pulling wires. And where shall we look for the liberalizing spirit, the inspiration to do good and be honest if not to the education and environment, and the stimulus of college halls?"

"I would like to tell you of the doubt and heartaches and headaches of these last few months but I won't. I don't know what will really be accomplished by the investigation into the insurance companies, but I hope for permanent benefits. I believe that we, as college men, have great lessons to take to heart, to put success on a true basis, to learn to deny to men of money special privileges just because they have money; in other words, to develop the spirit of perfect fairness and honesty."

STATE TREASURER SHORT

Present Incumbent in Kansas Denies That He or Any of His Clerks Is Responsible.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 20.—E. E. Grimes, ex-state treasurer, notified Governor Hoch today that it would not be necessary to bring suit against him to recover any shortage found under his administration. He said he would waive the statute of limitation and if necessary the state can take the house from over his wife and children. Governor Hoch says no one believes Grimes dishonest or that he benefited from the $7215 unexplained shortage.

Kansas City, Jan. 20.—Thomas T. Kelly, the present state treasurer of Kansas, was in Kansas City today. "Frank Grimes has said he will pay back whatever was lost in his term of office. What do you say?" was asked of Mr. Kelly.

"Mr. Grimes," replied Kelly, "must have been misunderstood. I think he means that he will pay back any money lost during his term of office that is properly chargeable to him or his deputies. He might have had a clerk who was at fault for carelessness or other cause. My position is that no part of the alleged shortage in my term was properly chargeable to me or to my subordinates. There is nothing for us to pay back and no shortage with which we were connected."

GERMANY HAVING TROUBLE

Socialists Determined to Provoke the Government to Use Harsh Measures.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The socialist meetings to protest against the Prussian election law are giving the authorities greater concern over the excesses at Hamburg. Ninety-three meetings have been called in Berlin and its suburbs, and addresses by Herr Bebel, the socialist leader, and other members of the Reichstag have been made. It is stated that the speakers have been instructed by the socialist executive committee to use the sharpest language possible in order to cause the police to disband the meetings, this being regarded as excellent propaganda material for the socialists. The military and police are making extensive preparations for tomorrow when the Russian "Red Sunday" of Jan. 22 last will be celebrated.

The police president has issued a proclamation which today is placarded everywhere warning the people against assembling out of idle curiosity about the places where meetings are to be held, since any rioters in the meetings "will be suppressed with the extreme measures admissible under the laws" and "under the circumstances innocent persons might suffer harm to life and health."

The Vorwarts, organ of the socialists, ironically thanks the police president for his giving emphasis to the demonstrations.

STROCK'S EMPLOYMENT AGENCY

During the last ten years this section of the country has been growing rapidly, consequently help of all kinds has been in great demand and the institution which relieves the employer of worry by securing for him competent workmen performs a service which should be appreciated. The best regulated and largest bureau of this kind in the west is Strock's Employment Agency, which, since its inception eleven years ago, has grown so rapidly that it was found necessary to establish a branch office in Ogden.

Mr. C. R. Strock is the proprietor of this agency, and is located at 45 West Second South street.

Here the unemployed obtain work and the office force is kept busy allotting the hundreds of applicants to their different positions. Another good feature is that corporations, hotels, mining companies, boarding houses, builders and contractors are furnished the help they need, while those living at a distance from this city have such confidence in Strock's Employment Agency that they know when sending for help they will get what they want. If you need help at any time call up either 'phone 464, and Mr. Strock will do the rest.
